PhD Programme (History)
Admissions 2021-2022

School of Liberal Studies (SLS)

SLS is home to postgraduate studies and research in Economics, History, Sociology and Mathematics. It offers a range of interdisciplinary, diverse and overlapping programmes that support, encourage and redefine liberal arts education through a number of interdisciplinary courses, participatory pedagogy and teaching-learning processes that go beyond the classroom to engage with the field.

PhD Programme in History

The School of Liberal Studies offers admission on an annual basis to a PhD Programme in History which emphasizes the development of research competency. Research scholars shall acquire or improve skills for effective review of and engagement with scholarship (professional or expert literature) in their chosen areas of research. They are helped to discover and apply methodologies necessary to carry out original research through a variety of sources, be they written, oral, visual or material, with a view to evolving interdisciplinary and connected engagement with historical studies. Research scholars will actively contribute to the intellectual life of the University through regular communication about research work with faculty and fellow students. The main output of history research scholars' efforts will be a thesis (dissertation).

Program Details and Requirements

- The PhD program strictly adheres to the rules and regulations of the University Grants Commission, as they are enforced and revised from time to time. The current regulations in force can be found here.

- The PhD program is guided by the research studies ordinance and regulations of the University, which can be found here.

- Minimum duration of three years and maximum duration is six years. Extensions and relaxations are applicable as per PhD Regulations 2021 that can be found here.
- Doctoral candidates are required to complete a course work of 16 credits in the first year (two semesters) of admission, including course(s) on Research Methodology. Course work is prescribed by the Research Studies Committee (RSC) of the School.
- The courses required for all PhD History scholars are as follows:
 - SLS3H001: Historical Methods (4 credits, in the Monsoon Semester).
 - SLS3H002: Studying India's Past: Traditions and New Approaches (4 credits, in the Winter Semester).
 - SLS3H003: Research Paper I- Historiographical/Secondary sources (4 credits, usually in the Monsoon Semester). The candidate is matched to a faculty member who guides the candidate towards completing an essay of 5000– 10000 words about the scholarship related to her/his proposed research topic.
 - Research Paper II- Primary sources essay (4 credits, usually in the Winter Semester). This course is transacted like SLS3HS003. The output is a research essay of 5000-10000 words on primary sources and research material. Course work is followed by active research and writing of the dissertation/thesis
- All candidates admitted to the Ph.D. programme shall be required to complete the Ph.D. course work prescribed by the School.
- Participation in course work presumes a scholar's residence in Delhi region during the officially recognised academic year/ sessions and the scholar's regular attendance of classes and related academic activities.
- A doctoral supervisor is appointed from the School within a year of admission to the program. Experts and scholars with academic credentials from outside the School or university can be appointed as co-supervisors in case the candidate requires additional or specialized guidance.
- A Research Advisory Committee (RAC) is appointed for every candidate, with the supervisor as the convener of the committee. The RAC advises the candidate and monitors her/his/ their progress in the PhD program.
- Every candidate is expected to complete the six milestones of the PhD program
 - Course work
 - Presentation and defense of a research synopsis
 - Pre-submission presentation
 - Pre-submission requirements of conference presentations and publication

- Production of an original thesis
- Viva-voce examination of the PhD thesis

Procedure for Admission

- The admission to the PhD program is based on a two-stage process consisting of an Entrance Test and a Personal Interview.
- Applicants are required to submit an original Research Proposal at the time of online application.
- The research proposal must clearly delineate the tentative research theme/focus/area which the applicant proposes to study. The research proposal should give a background of the proposed research, its broad questions/ objectives and a brief description of the relevant theoretical/conceptual frameworks. The word limit for the research proposal is 2500 words.

- The proposed area of research must align with the research interests of the faculty of the PhD programme.
- Applicants are required to apply online on the admissions portal of the University with relevant documents.
- In view of the Covid-19 pandemic, the admission process, entrance test and interview will follow the format (online or offline) as decided by the University from time to time. Applicants are strongly advised to regularly check the University Admissions website regularly for details, updates and modifications.
- The Entrance Test shall be qualifying with qualifying marks as 50%. The syllabus of the Entrance Test shall consist of 50% of research methodology and 50% shall be subject specific.
- The Entrance Test will comprise subjective questions. The examination will be based broadly on a Masters level curriculum in History and will include questions of an exploratory nature drawn from the areas of research in which supervision will be offered.
- An interview will be organized for the qualified applicants. The applicants are required to discuss their research interest/ area through a presentation of their research proposal before the Ph.D. Programme Faculty and RSC. The interview/viva voce shall consider the following:
 - i. Whether the applicant possesses competence in the proposed research area.
 - ii. Whether the research can be undertaken at the School.
 - iii. Whether the proposed area of research can contribute to new/additional knowledge in the field.
- The Entrance Test shall be of 70% weight age and performance in the interview shall carry a weight of 30%.
- The interview, the Entrance Test and exemptions from the Entrance Test are guided by the Regulations Relating to the Award of Degree of Doctor of Philosophy, 2021 that can be found here.
