PhD Programme (Performance Studies) 2021—2022

(To be approved by School RSC and SCR)

School of Culture and Creative Expressions (SCCE)

SCCE offers a range of interdisciplinary, diverse and overlapping programmes in literary art - creative writing, film studies, performance studies and visual arts that support, encourage and redefine liberal arts education through a rigorous emphasis on critical practice and studies via a number of interdisciplinary courses, participatory pedagogy and teaching-learning processes.

PhD Programme in Performance Studies

The School of Culture and Creative Expressions offers admission to a PhD Programme in Performance Studies. Research scholars shall acquire or improve skills for effective review of and engagement with scholarship in their chosen areas of research. They are enabled to discover and apply methodologies necessary to carry out original research aimed at an interdisciplinary engagement with performance studies. Research scholars will actively contribute to the intellectual life of the University through regular communication about their research work with faculty and fellow students. The key output of Performance Studies research scholars' would be a thesis.

Program Details and Requirements

1. The PhD program strictly adheres to the rules and regulations of the University Grants Commission, as they are enforced and revised from time to time. The current regulations in force can be found here.
2. The PhD program is guided by the research studies ordinance and regulations of the University, which can be found at the end of this brochure.
3. Minimum duration of the PhD programme is three years and maximum duration is six years. Extensions and relaxations are applicable as per PhD Regulations 2021 that can be found here.

4. Doctoral candidates are required to complete a course work of 16 credits in the first year (two semesters) of admission, including course(s) on Research Methodology. Course work is prescribed by the Research Studies Committee (RSC) of the School.
5. Participation in course work presumes a scholar's residence in Delhi region during the officially recognised academic year/ sessions and the scholar's regular attendance of classes and related academic activities.
6. Each student admitted to the programme will be assigned a provisional Academic Advisor based on mutual interests of the students and respective faculty members. The provisional Academic Advisor will guide the student regarding the course work to be undertaken based on the research interests of the student.
7. A doctoral supervisor is assigned by the RSC at the end of the first year of admission to the program as soon as the course work is completed. Experts and scholars with academic credentials from outside the School or university can be appointed as co-supervisors in case the candidate requires additional or specialized guidance.
8. A Research Advisory Committee (RAC) is constituted for every candidate, with the supervisor as the convener of the committee, once the supervisor is assigned. The RAC advises the candidate and monitors her/his/ their progress in the PhD program.
9. Every candidate is expected to complete the six milestones of the PhD program:
 - Completion of Coursework
 - Presentation and defense of a research synopsis
 - Pre-submission requirements of conference presentations and publication
 - Production of an original thesis
 - Pre-submission presentation
 - Viva-voce defense of the PhD thesis after the external examination

Procedure for Admission

- The admission to the PhD program is based on an evaluation of (1) Entrance test (weightage: 70%) and (2) a personal interview (weightage: 30%).
- Applicants are required to submit an original Research Proposal at the time of online application.
- The research proposal must clearly delineate the tentative research theme/focus/area which the applicant proposes to study. The research proposal should give a background of the proposed research, its broad questions/ objectives and a brief description of the relevant theoretical/conceptual frameworks. The word limit for the research proposal is 2000 to 2500 words.
- Applicants are required to apply online on the admissions portal of the University with relevant documents.
- In view of the Covid-19 pandemic, the admission process, entrance test and interview will follow the format (online or offline) as decided by the University from time to time. Applicants are strongly advised to regularly check the University Admissions website regularly for details, updates and modifications.
- The Entrance Test shall be qualifying with qualifying marks as 50%. The entrance test will expect the candidate to demonstrate deep familiarity with the histories of performing arts practices, as well as the various scholarly approaches made in the discipline of performance studies in India and abroad. The criteria for evaluation will be the degree of familiarity and engagement with the multiple thematic and methodological concerns of performance studies as a discipline.
- The Entrance Test will comprise subjective and objective-type questions.
- An interview will be organized for the qualified applicants. The interview/viva voce will be based upon the research proposal and shall consider the following:
 - whether the applicant possesses competence in the proposed research area.

- whether the research can be undertaken at the School.
 - whether the proposed area of research can contribute to new/additional knowledge in the field.
- The exemptions from the entrance test are guided by the Regulations Relating to the Award of Degree of Doctor of Philosophy, 2021. Specifically, since the discipline of Performance Studies has no NET examination/JRF, the only disciplines that will be considered for the JRF exemption are the following allied areas from within the list of UGC subjects: (i) English (ii) Mass Communication and Journalism (iii) Music (iv) Performing Arts: Dance, Drama, Theatre (v) Women Studies (vi) Comparative Literature (vii) Folk Literature (viii) Tribal and Regional Language/Literature (ix) Indian Culture.
